2. Subject stated that her mother prepared the caption for her wedding photo listing the above information, and gave it to a news representative for publication. However, in a phone conversation on the evening of 5 October 1967 the Subject told her mother that she should not list her CIA employment or associate her with the [REDACTED]. It was suggested that the Subject inform her mother that publication of information of this matter might adversely affect some future assignment she is considering. It was also pointed out that identifying her with the [REDACTED] could embarrass the Subject and the Agency or both. Subject stated that she would try and persuade her mother to follow these instructions. Subject was requested to keep this office advised of any further developments in the case.
